DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know that electric power first came to Sackville in 1900 — two years before the cities of Moncton and Fredericton, and five years before Saint John? In that year, the power was supplied by a gasoline generator and ten years later, the system had grown to two generators. By 1927, a new transmission line was built between Amherst and Sackville and the local utility began buying power from the Maccan, N.S., coal-fired power plant.

Spell for Lost Socks

I still think about you
as if you're alive,
as if I just haven't seen you
in a while,
accidentally refer to you
in conversation in the present tense,
expect to see you at Christmas
or some summer visit that just never comes, just as if you never ended.
You still walk your daily habits,
still occupy your house
exactly as it always was except somewhere else,
misplaced like a sock—
if I could just figure out where you got to.

The Sackville Festival of Early Music

New Brunswick Early Music Festival

Remembers its Past and Re-tunes its Future.

Celebrating its 21st Anniversary in September, the Sackville Festival of Early Music presents a weekend that honours its founder, features one of today's leading interpreters of Renaissance and Baroque vocal music and highlights a celebrated local choir.

The past began in 2004, when Réjean Poirier invited musicians from France and Quebec to join Acadian performers to commemorate and celebrate the 400th anniversary of the founding of Acadie. From those ROOTS | RACINES the annual festival, now centred at Mount Allison University, has grown and flowered to become recognized for performances by world-class musicians and Canadian artists, offering an exciting once-a-year opportunity for community and visitors to experience performances on period instruments.

It is a delight therefore for the festival to welcome one of Britain's best known and much-loved sopranos for the opening concert on Friday, September 26. Celebrated for her glorious voice and purity of tone, Dame Emma Kirkby is renowned internationally as a leading interpreter of Renaissance and Baroque music. She will be joined onstage by Canadian lutenist Lucas Harris. "Bringing Emma Kirkby to Sackville is such a joy and a pleasure", says Christina Haldane, Festival Executive Director, "It will be a world-class opening night."

Saturday's concert will highlight music of the French Baroque, performed by the festival's new resident Ensemble SFEM, a group of Canadian historically informed performers from Montreal, led by Sackville-based Baroque violinist Jimin Shin Dobson, the Festival's Artistic Director.

The concluding performance of ROOTS | RACINES will underline the historic connection, and the future focus, as the Choeur Louisbourg, an Acadian professional chamber choir based in Moncton New Brunswick, performs a celebratory concert of Italian Renaissance choral works. Monique Richard directs the 18-member choir alongside the Ensemble SFEM. The choir shares roots with the festival, as it was also founded by Réjean Poirier.

All performances take place in Brunton Auditorium, Department of Music, Mount Allison University, Sackville, New Brunswick, September 26 – 28, 2025.

Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 pm; Sunday at 2:00 pm.

Community outreach is always an important part of the annual festival. This year it includes workshops about the period musical instruments and a Q&A discussion with Emma Kirkby. These events will take place in Brunton Auditorium and in local schools.

As the festival continues to offer exceptional music opportunities to Canadian and world-wide performers, it is supported by Heritage Canada, the Canada Council for the Arts, Mount Allison University, the J. E. A. Crake Foundation, the Government of New Brunswick, le Secrétariat aux affaires intergouvernementales canadiennes Québec, the town of Sackville, Tantramar NB, the local community and donations from many music lovers.

A 211 Service Navigator took a call from an adult woman. She requested some resources for a male family member. When the Service Navigator probed for more details on the situation, the caller said that he was the sole caregiver of his wife who had severe dementia. When the Service Navigator queried as to what assistance would be most helpful, the caller expressed that caregiver counselling and emotional support were most needed.

After conducting a thorough assessment, the Service Navigator searched for resources for the caller's relative. She referred the caller to the Alzheimer Society of New Brunswick, and the caller's local Community Addiction and Mental Health Services. She described the services and respective roles for each agency, and made sure the caller knew exactly how her relative could access assistance from both organizations.

The caller took down all of the information and thanked the Service Navigator, who encouraged the caller to contact 211 again anytime that she or her relative needed information and referrals to services in the community.

The Salem School Breakfast Program is looking for volunteers! Parents, grandparents, community members...if you'd like to spend a little time one morning a week greeting the students of Salem Elementary School and helping to provide them with a healthy start to their day, we'd love to have you as a part of our volunteer team. We offer a variety of food choices to all the students of Salem School on every school morning, to ensure no students are starting their learning day hungry. The commitment for volunteers is approximately 7:15–8:30am on your chosen weekday. If this sounds like something you would be interested in, please email Kathy Treash at kathy0321@yahoo.com
